THE THUNDER FROM DOWN UNDER

A New Zealand supercar - it sounds like the punchline to a racetrack joke but this road-going machine has the power to match any Ferrari, writes Andrew Frankel

The engine is thirsty and loud, and the exhaust sounds like a jet engine on full throttle. The car is powerful, with a top speed of over 300 km/h, and the acceleration is breathtaking. The suspension is tuned to handle the car's weight and provide a smooth ride, even on rough roads. The interior is comfortable and well-appointed, with high-quality materials and a modern design. The exterior is sleek and aerodynamic, with a low drag coefficient and a high downforce at speed. The car is designed to be both fast and luxurious, with features such as a climate-controlled interior and a large panoramic roof. Despite the high performance, the car is also practical and easy to use, with a user-friendly interface and a range of safety features. This supercar is a true masterpiece of engineering and design, and it is sure to be a hit with car enthusiasts around the world.
